Warren County Jail to Partner with Ohio Means Jobs

The Warren County Jail is partnering with Ohio Means Jobs and the Warren County Educational Service Center to bring a post release employment service to soon to be released inmates. In doing so, we hope this program will give inmates the contacts and skills they need to go from incarceration straight to employment. This will help inmates fitting the criteria with court fines imposed and help reduce recidivism. The program is targeting persons between the ages of 18-24 years old, and is part of the Warren County Workforce Investment Act Youth Program. The program provides employment and training activities for economically disadvantaged youth.
